Shaping the future of Assessment Centres

12th - 13th May 2016 at Beaumont Estate, Old Windsor, Berkshire, SL4 2JJ

The 3rd UK Assessment Centre Conference

12th - 13th May 2016

Following highly successful conferences in 2013 and 2014, the UK Assessment Centre Group (UK-ACG) is proud to announce its third conference:

Assessment Centres: Global, Cultural and Diversity Challenges

Please make sure you save the date in your diaries and join fellow practitioners and researchers for an insightful and engaging conference about the Assessment Centre method. We are currently seeking high quality submissions for the conference sessions. Anyone interested in presenting should provide submissions by 1st February.

Further details about the conference and submission guidelines can be found at the UK-ACG website: www.uk-acg.com.

“Wonderful job on the 2nd Conference: Broad context; Diversity of thought/speakers; Future focused; Relaxed and conversational breakouts.” – Lyn Davies, Transcendics Inc., Canada.

“The keynotes were excellent.” – Cath Greenwood, CM Greenwood Consulting

The Schedule

Workshop Schedule

By popular demand the conference will once again be preceded by a workshop on how to secure Board commitment to your Assessment Centre activity, for those delegates who might wish to attend this event prior to the commencement of the conference.

Workshop: 'Proving the value of your Assessment Centre to the Board'

For those who are planning to run an AC, or who are being asked to justify the continued running of an existing AC and are seeking some guidance as to how best to make the business case.

Keynote Speakers

We are delighted to announce the following keynote speakers:

Steve Isherwood, AGR

Stephen Isherwood was appointed Chief Executive of AGR in June 2013 following seven years as Head of Graduate Recruitment UK & Ireland at Ernst & Young, one of the largest recruiters of graduates in the UK. Stephen started his career at Coopers & Lybrand recruiting experienced management consultants before moving into graduate recruitment when the firm merged with Price Waterhouse to form PwC. After PwC he led the graduate recruitment and development programme at Safeway before working in the public sector where he developed and managed a number of careers related programmes. Stephen has extensive experience in the recruitment and development of students, both graduates and school leavers. He has worked closely with Higher Education throughout his career with a focus on the career development and employment of students. In addition to his current role Stephen sits on a number of steering groups related to higher education and employment including the HEAR Advisory Committee, the Plotr Advisory Council and the GPA Advisory Group. He has presented to various committees in the Houses of Parliament and often appears in national and local media.

Brian Hoffman, University of Georgia

Dr. Brian Hoffman received his doctorate from the University of Tennessee in 2006 and is the Chair of the Industrial-Organizational Psychology Program at the University of Georgia. Dr. Hoffman currently serves as an Associate Editor of the Journal of Management and has served on the Editorial Boards of the Journal of Business and Psychology, Journal of Management, Journal of Organizational Behavior, and the Journal of Personnel Psychology. Dr. Hoffman has published over 50 articles, chapters, and books on a range of topics, including the changing nature of work and workers, the assessment and prediction of effective leadership, and the application of management principles to sports settings. His research has been covered by CBS Sports Network, ESPN's SportsCenter, National Public Radio, Cracked.com, and the Washington Post. An experienced assessor, role player, and AC administrator and designer, he has authored two books on assessment centers, co-chaired the development of the most recent International Guidelines on the Ethical Use of Assessment Centers, published multiple studies supporting the multifaceted interpretation of assessment centers, and twice received the Anne Howard and Douglas Bray Grant for Assessment Center research.

Simon Mitchell, DDI

Simon is General Manager of DDI UK based in London. He also leads the European marketing team and is a member of the DDI European Leadership team. Before joining DDI in 2006, Simon held various sales, marketing and general management roles for organisations including manufacturing and business services group Reed Holdings, asset management organisation Microlease plc and healthcare group Whatman plc (part of GE). At DDI he designs and delivers executive assessment and leadership programmes for several global organisations. Simon is a regular commentator in business and HR media including the BBC, The Times, The Financial Times, and The Economist.
